Growing together through Christ with courage, confidence and dignity

January 2023

Dear Parents and Carers,

The NEU have informed me that the first teachers' strike day will be next Wednesday the 1st February. Due to the number of staff likely to be striking that day the school will be closed to the majority of pupils. Families of children with EHCPs or other needs will be contacted separately and offered a place at school for the day.

Staff not on strike will be in school setting work on Google Classroom; Year 11 are also able to access revision materials to prepare for their mock papers in March. The majority of year 12 and 13 subjects already have materials for their entire course available on Google Classroom, so students can use this time to catch up on or revise previous lessons, read ahead for the next part of their course, or complete past exam papers.

Thank you for your understanding.

Kind regards

H.M. Gill
